

Descendants of John Gale

Generation No. 1

1. JOHN⁵ GALE (WILLIAM⁴, JOHN³, JOHN², JOHN¹) was born March 18, 1857 in Brompton, Yorkshire, England^{1,2}, and died April 27, 1943 in London, ON, CA². He married ANNA MARIA LANG October 04, 1884 in London East Village, Middlesex, ON, CA³, daughter of FRANCIS LANG and MARY ?. She was born March 30, 1855 in St.Stephen, Cornwall, England⁴, and died June 23, 1931 in London, ON, CA^{5,6}.

Notes for JOHN GALE:

John Gale emigrated from Yorkshire England as part of the massive upheaval in both the Industrial and Agricultural Revolutions in England, and the emphasis on developing the land with British subjects before the Americans poured up from the south. They were given a lot of assistance both in passage and job locations. In the 1901 census John was enumerated twice, first at his home, where it is recorded that he immigrated to Canada in 1869, and then at work at the Insane Asylum, where it is recorded that he immigrated in 1882. The second date seems more reliable since he would have only been 12 years old in 1869, and he first appears in the London City directory in 1886.

John arrived by boat at Belleville, ON with two brothers. Hansen Gale left for the USA, probably to Syracuse NY, but all contact was lost. William Gale went to ND USA to farm but was driven out by dust storms and went north to Holbein SK in Canada where he became an early settler.

John went on to London, ON where he was employed by the Asylum for the Insane (later renamed the Ontario Psychiatric Hospital) as a farm laborer, also assisting in supervising and training of patients who helped produce much of the food that they used. John was hired by the hospital on Feb. 1, 1883 at a salary of $18 per month. On Jan. 1 1908 he was promoted to assistant farmer, and was still an employee in 1923 when the old employee register was replaced.

John started as a boarder with a Mrs. Mary Lang at 928 Dufferin Ave. in the east end of London, and later married her daughter. He is listed as a boarder in the 1886 London City directory. In 1887 he is listed as the owner of 928 Dufferin. After the arrival of their first child on November 25, 1887, John and Mary Ann sold the house on Dufferin to Thomas Fuller and bought a property just north of the hospital farm in the 2nd concession lot 8, where they are listed in directories and censuses from 1887 on. The rest of the children were born there. This property is now occupied by the North London Optimists Community Centre. The whole family, including his mother-in-law Mary Lang, but excluding Cicely who had gone to work as a servant for a neighbor, are listed there in the 1901 census. John is enumerated a second time at his job as ploughman for the Insane Asylum. They belonged to the Church of England.

John retired and stayed on the property with his wife and daughter Gladys. When William's wife was totally incapacitated in 1921, they were joined by William's two sons. After John's death Gladys sold the property and retired to London.

Notes for DONALD AMOS COBBAN:

Don is a graduate in Business Administration from the University of Western Ontario and was gold medallist of his year. After assignment to ammunition production during the war years, he worked for several companies in a variety of fields but with the major responsibility in financial and operation control. He was working at Somervilles in London when he met Lorna. Don then went to work for Kellog's and the family moved to Lambeth. They then moved to Port Credit in what is now Mississauga for a couple of years. When he took a job at Provincial Engineering in Niagara Falls they moved to 195 St. James St. in Stamford Centre. Perhaps his favorite job was with the engineering firm of Beamer and Lathrop. This involved extensive travel both in and out of Canada with contacts in Europe, Asia, North and South America. When that firm folded he took a job with Sangamo Electric, a manufacturer of electric meters and other equipment, and the family moved to Alamosa Drive in North York, Toronto. Later he worked for a company which had the license to market Meccano and Triang products in Canada as well as Raleigh Bicycles. He retired in his 50s and returned to London where he and Lorna lived in the Whiteoaks area until 2002. They then moved to an apartment in north-west London.
